

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
February 25, 2014

Contact:

Deanna Ferguson
812-234-8733
dferguson@themaplecenter.org

OLLI & The Maple Center present:

PAIN MANAGEMENT FROM A PHARMACIST'S PERSPECTIVE

Sponsored in loving memory by the family and friends of Van Desrocher.

The Maple Center for Integrative Health is pleased to partner with OLLI on Wednesday, March 12, 2014 from 1:30pm – 3:00pm at the Landsbaum Classroom @ 1433 North 6 ½ Street in Terre Haute for this seminar #2 in a series on pain management.

Dr. Megan Lotz a recent Butler University Doctorate of Pharmacy graduate will discuss the pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment options for pain management, emphasize the stepwise approach used for treating pain and explain the barriers and complications in pain treatment. She will also discuss the common adverse effects of pain medications, and review new prescribing laws associated with narcotic pain medications.

The presentation is free and open to the public. No advance registration required.

Upcoming dates for the pain management series are April 9th - Interventions for Pain, and May 14th - Physical Therapy: Building the Body's Ability to Overcome Chronic Pain, These will be held at the same time and location.

The Maple Center, not-for-profit, for Integrative Health was founded in 2004 in Terre Haute, Indiana, and is dedicated to providing integrative health consultations for all ages and to providing educational programs to empower and enrich men and women alike. The Maple Center has created a place where individuals and their families find a listening ear and a caring heart.

The Maple Center for Integrative Health
1801 North Sixth Street, Suite 600
Terre Haute, Indiana 47804
812-234-8733
www.themaplecenter.org